

Stacer produces an angler's delight – the 409 Proline Angler

Due to customer demand Stacer has released a brand new model in the popular Proline Angler range, the 409 Proline Angler Striker Series.

The 409 Proline Angler replaces the 399 Proline Angler and features an innovative hull design exclusive to the Striker Series.

The new Striker Series hull features wider chines which not only provide a smooth and dry ride but excellent stability at rest and underway, creating ideal conditions for fishing from the casting platforms.

The new bow design featured on the Striker Series creates an 11% increase in size in the front casting platform as well as extra storage.

The 409 Proline Angler is not only longer but also wider and deeper than the previous Proline Angler 399.

Stacer National Account Manager Drew Jackson said the 409 Proline Angler is an impressive new model and is fitted with everything needed for the ultimate fishing trip.

'The Striker Series has been designed for keen fishermen with a carpet casting platform, two rod holders and a Stacer Sea Pro seat all included as standard features.

'Fishos can now option up with a new 40L fuel tank and rear live bait tank to enjoy even longer days out on the water.

'A lot of research went into the new design and as a result we have created one serious fishing machine,' Drew said.

Like all Stacers, the 409 Proline Angler is built to last and comes with a 3 + 2 year bonus warranty for peace of mind.

The 409 Proline Angler is available as a package complete with boat, motor and trailer.
